
Architect(s) : Jean-pierre Brouns

The interior is composed of a saloon with a fully equipped kitchen and a navigation area with a steering wheel. On the front of the boat there is a large owner's cabin with plenty of storage space, a bathroom and an independent toilet. Its triplane hull shape and the protections of the propellers allow it to run aground on the beaches at will.

